Feedback System of the College

The College collects feedback from different stakeholders of the college to evaluate and redesign the programs and facilities available in the college. College collects feedback from following stakeholders: -

From Students of the College: - The students are the most important stakeholders of higher education system. The feedback from students, thus plays a very important part in assurance of the quality of the college. Hence, their feedback was taken regarding the infrastructure of the college, their curriculum design, curriculum implementation, quality and number of teaching faculties, etc.

From Parents/Guardians: - The feedback from the parents / guardians were taken as to whether the college has stood up to their expectations. Their suggestions are priceless for the development of the college.

From Teachers of the College: - The quality of any institution largely depends on the quality of teachers. Any institution can retain a quality teacher when the aspirations of the teacher is fulfilled. Hence feedback from the faculty members is taken to take care of their expectations and their suggestions in each area.

From Alumni: - The feedback from the alumni are very valuable for the college as their sincere feedback is free from any influence. This is very important in regards to the improvement in employability of the students.
